CORAM: SMT. RANJANA DESAI &
V. C. DAGA, JJ.
DATED:-30/3/2007

P.C. :-

The petitioner's application for furlough has been rejected on the ground that he had surrendered late by 1240 days after he was released on parole.

We have perused the affidavit of Mr. Atram, Jailor Group-II, Yerwada Central Prison, Pune. It appears from the affidavit that for late surrender the petitioner's name has been removed from remission register for a period of 10 years. Besides it appears that after than on two occasions the petitioner was released on furlough and he surrendered on the due dates. We feel that the petitioner has been adequately punished for his late surrender. In view of this his application for furlough should be reconsidered, if the petitioner furnishes fresh medical certificate about his mother's illness. We direct the prison authority to reconsider the petitioner's furlough application in accordance with law, if fresh medical certificate is submitted by him.

Petition is disposed of.

Order be communicated to the prisoner in jail.
